

Joan Stansbury (Accompanist) - recently retired from a music-teaching career in Fayette County Public Schools. From 1075-1986, she was the choral director at Henry Clay High School. For the next twenty years, she taught elementary general music at James lane Allen.

In her retirement, oan is teaching part-time for Musikgarten of Lexington, as well as teaching a music education class at UK. She also sings with the Lexington Chamber chorale, and directs the adult choir at Chapel Hill Presbyterian church. Joan also is serving as a regional representative to the American Orff Scschulwerk Association, which is a national music teachers' organization.